In Plainest and Most Emphatic Terms Roosevelt Takes His Stand Among The Progressives

Kansas Wild With Joy, and Leaders Say It Will Save The Party

OSAWATOMIE, Kas., Aug. 31.—In a clear and emphatic fashion Theodore Roosevelt announced his political creed today. It was the creed of progressive republicanism. It aligned him definitely with the progressive movement within the party as a whole. It placed him on record as an advocate of some policies which find favor with the insurgents, and as an opponent of "every interest" which he believes exercises a sinister influence on the affairs of the people.

A sentence which Roosevelt put into his speech extemporaneously brought forth applause from the crowd. "No man should make a promise before election that he does not intend to keep after election, and if he does not keep it, hunt him out."

The people gave his words an interpretation of their own, and the outburst of cheering was one of the wildest of the day.

Vendors of wares did not decrease their shouts while the colonel was speaking, and he had to compete for hearing with the whistle of the merry-go-round, the squawking of the children, the strident voices of Kansas orators urging the people to buy peanuts, popcorn, hot dog, pink lemonade and potato peelers.

Gifford Pinchot made a speech after Roosevelt had finished, then Garfield.

LAWRENCE KAN., Aug. 31.—Progressive republican leaders of the state are enthusiastic in their approval of Roosevelt's speech at Osawatomie today. They declared it meant much for progressive republicanism in Kansas and that its effect would be felt all over the nation.

"His speech demonstrated that he is in absolute accord with the political views of the people of Kansas on all public questions," said Senator Briarwood, after Roosevelt had completed his address. And Governor Stubbs was equally forcible in approving the colonel's speech.

"This is the greatest speech that Roosevelt ever made," said Governor Stubbs. "It will have a far-reaching effect in the progressive movement. It is in fact the only course republican party must adopt or go from the rocks. He talked of principles and methods today that the out of business. He has become the foremost leader of the progress that could have saved the party since element of the republican party."

"I think Roosevelt's speech has given wonderful impetus to progressive republicanism in Kansas," said Representative Madison. "This movement was already strong."

Dedication of a drinking fountain provided by the Humane Society in the center of the town was timed for the arrival of Roosevelt here to dine with Governor Stubbs. Drawn up in picturesque form were hundreds of little children all attired in white with big sunflowers prominently from a stand, talked to the easily displayed. Roosevelt, speaking from a stand, talked to the children of kindness that should characterize their treatment of the dumb animals.

SANTA FE ROAD
FIGHTING FOR A PITIFUL SUM

Shown at Hearing That The Rate Increase Demanded Would Net Corporation Less Than $100,000 a Year

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Co-Incident with the closing testimony for the Santa Fe system before the special examiners for the interstate commerce commission, and the statement from the road's statistician that increases in freight rates asked would net the Santa Fe only $94,000 increases yearly in earnings, there came the suggestion today that the railroads now being on the defensive in fight, will change their tactics, and seek to compel shippers who oppose the advance in freight rates to declare how much they would profit on the different commodities under consideration.

A request from Attorney F. J. Norton, counsel for the Santa Fe, for the names of the different associations of shippers represented at the hearing, that he might question the shippers gave color to the report. When the initial presentation of the contracts of the Santa Fe system concluded, the hearing was transferred to the Rock Island road.

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR NORTHWEST HEROES

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES SUBSCRIBE FUNDS FOR INJURED FOREST FIGHTERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Brave fire fighters, who risked death and suffering injuries in protecting life and property in the stricken northwest and whose small wages stopped when they were incapacitated in the line of duty, received funds for their immediate needs through the sympathy of the employees of the forest service here, who, from directors to messengers, almost to the man contributed to give temporary relief at least.

District Forester W. B. Greeley, of Missoula, Montana, replying to a message said: "Can use $150 for relief of injured rangers, temporary employees and in sending the bodies of men killed to their relatives." Between $150 and $200 was telegraphed to Greeley today.

Both Forester Graves and District Forester Greeley report the fire situation in the Missoula district greatly improved. In response to a request for government assistance the war department ordered a troop of cavalry from American Lake, Washington, to fight the forest fires in the Yakima reservation in Oregon.

IN BRIBE SCANDAL

GRAND JURY IS BEGINNING TO RETURN BILLS CHARGING PERJURY

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Between the closing moves in the Lee O'Neil Browne bribery trial and beginning by the special grand jury of an investigation of perjury charges in connection with the case, the criminal court building was in a turmoil today.

Within an hour after the members of the special grand jury assembled States Attorney Wayman announced an indictment, charging perjury, was voted against Patrick J. Keeley, a former city detective, who worked for Mr. Browne in the early stages of the Browne case and who later appeared as a witness for the defense. Meanwhile in Judge Kersten's court, it was announced plans had been completed whereby the Browne case would go to the jury next Monday.

Senator Rayner Exposes the Insincerity of Republicans Who Talk About Desire to Revise the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Senator Rayner of Maryland takes little stock in reports representing the administration being in favor of tariff revision. The party had its chance in the framing of the last tariff bill and it is too late now. The senator says: "The republican party made its contest before the people upon the distinct and unequivocal promise that if successful tariff duties would be lowered. It was compelled to take this stand because the revolt against the high schedules of the Dingley bill was raging in the states of Indiana, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, the Dakotas, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and other places. The democratic party, during the campaign, charged its opponents upon every hustling with the intent to falsify its platform pledges and betray the people."

"The people did not believe the predictions of the democratic party and swept the republican party into power, and now they have been rewarded by as base a lot of perfidy as ever disgraced the annals of our political history, and every prediction that was made has been more than verified."

"Instead of lowering duties they have raised them, and while the Dingley bill provided for an average tariff of 44.16 per cent. ad valorem the Payne-Aldrich bill provides for a duty of 45.57 per cent. so that the increase over the Dingley bill now amounts to 1.71 per cent. ad valorem, the highest tariff ever imposed by any commercial nation in the history of the world."

"It is an insult to the American people when they are complaining of high rates to make the rates still higher. It is a repudiation to the party's most solemn pledge to pass a measure swelling with increased profits to the industries of New England and with higher prices and heavier burdens to the American consumer, and unless the people are willing to condone this trifling with their rights and expectations, based upon the most solemn assurances of the republican platform, they will administer to the party that has deceived and betrayed them the punishment that the polls it so richly deserves for this act of deception and perfidy."

IMPORTS INTO MEXICO FROM
U. S. GROWING

Consul Torres, Stationed at Naco, Tells Review That August Saw Large Increase of Import Trade

Miguel Lopez Torres, the consul for Mexico stationed at Naco, was in Bisbee on official business yesterday. He stated that last month, August, broke the record for this year. If not since the panic of 1907, for exports from the United States into Mexico through Naco. The exports consisted, for the greater part, of machinery and merchandise and the volume of American commerce through Naco into Sonora has been increasing gradually for the past four or five months.

As to the importations from Sonora into the United States through Naco, Consul Torres stated that he has not learned what the volume of this trade was for the past month, but he was of the opinion that it was not as great as during some of the earlier months in the year because the importation of cattle has fallen off.

When asked if there was any more of the revolutionary talk that was heard during the recent election time, Consul Torres laughed and said that there is no talk of this kind at all in northern Sonora, that he has heard of. The people are satisfied with present conditions and any revolutionary spirit that might have been manifested during the excitement of the election period has died out.

FUTURITY WON
BY NOVELTY IN RECORD TIME

Probably The Last Futurity That Will Be Held, Because Of The Anti-Betting Law In New York

SARATOGA, Aug. 31.—The Futurity, the richest stake of the season, and the last race of the season in this state and perhaps the last Futurity, in view of the anti-betting legislation, was won today by S. C. Hildreth's Novelty, ridden by Shilling, six furlongs, time 1:12 1-5. The race netted only $23,800 to the winner, although in the past it was sometimes worth more than $60,000.

H. P. Whitney's Bashful, bought a few days ago for $30,000, earned $3,973 and second place; E. R. Bradley's Love Not third, $1,826. Time only 3-5 slower than the track records.

The most remarkable incident of the race was the performance of the filly, Love Not. On the way to the post she became unmanageable, and ran half a mile with Jockey Reid at full speed. It took twelve minutes to bring her back to the post. When the start came she rushed to the lead and led to the final furlong pole.

AUGUST PAYMENTS
SHOW INCREASE

SOMEHOW THE COLD CASH SPEAKS LOUDER THAN THE VOICE OF PESSIMIST

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—August came to a dull and uninteresting close in the stock market today. Dealings lapsed into idleness and prices drifted listlessly. The September dividend payments amount to $92,483,000, according to the computation of the Journal of Commerce, and the amount to be $12,059,000 greater than for September of last year, with $8,549,000 of that amount on account of increased dividend disbursements.

The growth of prosperous conditions that implied had some effect in maintaining a firm, although almost lifeless market. The remainder of the increase for interest account is due to additions of bond and note issues since last year. Reading, Union Pacific and Steel again absorbed the bulk of the dealings.

WITH RED FACE
TAFT LAYS THE CORNER STONE

Tells The Crowd That Beverly Will Be The Summer Capital for At Least Two Years More

BEVERLY, Aug. 31.—In laying the corner stone of the Y. M. C. A. building today, President Taft announced that Beverly would continue to be the "summer capital" of the country, "at any rate, for two years more."

Melville Woodbury, who presided at the ceremonies referred to the president as "Beverly's most distinguished summer boarder."

The block of granite was 3 by 4 feet, and no mortar had been spread when the president took up the silver trowel. He worked in silence nearly five minutes, then with red-faced face he looked up and laughingly inquired: "Who is the mason? Who is my boss?" Everyone laughed, and the mason stepped forward. He gave some directions, but did not offer to relieve the chief magistrate of the trowel, and Taft resumed the job. When he had applied the last cement the mason smoothed off the edges and the stone was lowered. The president helped swing the granite block on its foundation and the crowd applauded vociferously.

CHOATE CHARGES
COME AS SURPRISE

OLD GRIEVANCE THAT HAS BEEN BEFORE BAR ASSOCIATION TWICE BEFORE

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 31.—Lawyers attending the American Bar Association meeting here were astonished at the publication in an afternoon paper the report of sensational charges preferred in the association against Joseph H. Choate of New York, former ambassador to Great Britain. All agree the charges have been made at least twice before in meetings of the association, but most of the delegates were in ignorance of their presentation at today's session.

George W. Chamlee of Tennessee, in convention announced he had a petition to offer. The petition was received without being read in the convention. It contained charges against Choate, prepared by James R. Watts, of New York. The charges had not been presented to the grievance committee, in fact, the grievance committee has had no meeting here, as no grievances had come before them. But two members of the committee were present and they have heard nothing of the alleged charges.

American in Cananea Calls German Drummer "Crazy" and Is Put in Jail For Several Hours

TAKES SAME TRAIN TO NACO, ARIZONA

And Once On American Soil Pounds German Until He Is Tired

Because he called a German drummer "crazy" in Cananea, Tuesday, Will Liggett was put in the jail and held in custody for several hours by the Mexican officials. Angered at the action of the German Liggett followed him to Naco yesterday and beat him up unmercifully.

The trouble started over some trunks owned by the drummer, who makes his headquarters at the City of Mexico. Liggett runs a transfer business in Cananea and he had moved the sample trunks for the drummer. There were words between the German and Liggett, which ended by Liggett telling the drummer that he was crazy. The German considered that had been insulted and went to the officers for revenge. He told them of the horrible insult that had been heaped on him by the American transfer man, and at the time displayed letters of introduction which had been given him by high officials at Mexico City. It is reported that the German had among his letters one to which was signed the name of President Diaz.

The letters had the desired effect. The officers were awed by the names of the big men who were personal friends of the German drummer and they sent a policeman out to bring Liggett to jail. He would have probably been held for several days at the least, but his friends among both the Mexican and American business men took prompt interest in the affair, and with the assistance of the American consul, Liggett was released from custody after spending five hours behind the bars.

The drummer took yesterday's train from Cananea to Naco, and young Liggett was on the same train. Liggett paid no attention to the German until the train ran out of Mexico into the land of the Stars and Stripes, and when the drummer alighted at the E. P. & S. V. depot at Naco, Liggett was there with his wrath bubbling over. He landed on the German and knocked him down, and as no one interfered Liggett pounded until he was too tired to strike another blow. The German howled and yelled for mercy but the boy had no mercy for him. The five hours in a Mexican jail had left a heavy score to pay.

The German passed through Bisbee last evening and looked as though he had been run through a threshing machine. His head was cut in several places and his face looked as though he had fallen into a barbed wire fence. He had little to say after he affair at Naco, only remarking that he did not think much of American justice or police protection. William Liggett is well known in Bisbee. His father was in business here for many years and was one of the pioneers of Naco.
